Music Therapy Internship:

The Institute for Therapy through the Arts (ITA) currently provides internships in the fields of drama therapy, art therapy, dance/movement therapy, and music therapy. The agency's philosophy of these internships is to provide a realistic learning experience that prepares the intern to work as a professional in the fields of creative arts therapies. ITA's music therapy internship is one of the national roster internship sites approved by the American Music Therapy Association (AMTA).

Program Description:

The Institute for Therapy through the Arts provides a unique learning experience for all creative arts therapy interns. Music therapy interns have the opportunity to acquire music therapy clinical experience in a variety of settings while implementing different approaches and techniques to best address client's needs. In addition, music therapy interns have the opportunity to work with not only an eclectic team of five board-certified music therapists, but also a creative arts therapies team that consists of art, dance/movement, and drama therapists.

ITA currently offers only a full-time internship consisting of 40 hours a week. ITA offers 2 music therapy intern positions for mid-August through mid-March period, 1 music therapy intern position for mid-January through late July period, and 1 music therapy intern position for mid-March through mid-September period. Music therapy interns will either work a Monday to Friday schedule or Tuesday to Saturday schedule, depending on their interests and the agency's needs.

Music therapy interns at ITA observe, co-treat, document, and lead music therapy sessions as well as observe and co-treat other creative arts therapy sessions. Each music therapy intern is assigned to a supervising music therapist; however, music therapy interns will also have the opportunity to work with other music therapists and creative arts therapists. Music therapy interns will meet weekly with their assigned case supervisors for case related supervision, will receive weekly individual supervision from their supervising music therapist(s), and will participate in weekly group supervision with the Training Coordinator. This is to ensure music therapy interns receive an adequate amount of supervision in order to foster self-growth and also deepen their understanding of music therapy and the creative arts therapies.

The Internship Director evaluates interns at the three and six-month stage of the internship to ensure interns are meeting the clinical training competencies set forth by the AMTA. In conjunction with the evaluations provided by their case supervisors and the Internship Director, a self-evaluation of the music therapy intern is also completed as a cross-reference.

Music therapy interns are expected to engage in conducting research in the field of creative arts therapies. Music therapy interns will utilize research findings to create or implement assessments and a final project to present to the ITA clinical team at the end of their internship. Interns are expected to present an hour-long in depth final project based on their thorough research at the end of their internship.

Music therapy interns are expected to drive to various contracts and office sites. Mileage will be reimbursed at $0.50 per mile up to $200. A reliable form of transportation is required for this internship. Music therapy interns are responsible for housing and dining. Because the caseload is diverse and spread throughout the Chicagoland area, requiring traveling during the week, interns are strongly encouraged to live no more than 10 miles or 30 minutes from the Evanston office. Options for housing may be found at an affordable rate in the nearby area. ITA is located in downtown Evanston and within walking distance from Northwestern University, which gives interns access to a variety of restaurants and shops.

Depending on the caseload and contracts assigned to each intern, various medical tests and requirements may be required of the intern that are mandated by that contract. The intern is responsible for completing and paying for any needed tests in order to go to that site. The internship director will give as much advance notice possible about which contracts may require additional tests so the intern can secure necessary funding. In instances where funding is not available for the intern to complete any tests specific to a contract, the intern will not be at that contract and prospective interns should know it may result in a less diverse caseload.

Evanston is an artistic and a diverse area that offers a lot of opportunities: arts & cultures, festivals and concerts, dining and shopping, lakefront and beaches in the summer time, etc. With the close proximity to the city of Chicago, there are even more to offer in terms of living. Apartment People and Chicago Apartment Finders are two of the many resources for apartment hunting.

Liability insurance will not be covered for the interns by the agency. Interns should either apply for liability insurance on their own behalf, or ask their educational institution if they are covered under institutions' policy. Health Care Providers Service Organization is affiliated with the AMTA and provides student-rate coverage. Expectations of Music Therapy Interns:

Because of the diverse caseload and additional assignments given to help increase clinical and administrative knowledge, prospective candidates should know ITA staff have high expectations for interns. This includes having strong organization skills, strong oral and written communication skills, the initiation to ask questions and take ownership over projects, assignments, and caseload, and the ability to manage seeing clients and working on assignments simultaneously.

Entry-level requirements for music therapy interns are expected. These include functional music skills in voice, piano and guitar. Music therapy interns should be familiar with different genres of music and be able to accompany self and clients efficiently with an aesthetic sound quality. It is also expected that music therapy interns have acquired a general understanding of using music and the therapeutic relationship when working to address clients' needs.

Due to the diverse clientele that ITA serves, it is not an expectation for intern applicants to have practicum experiences with target populations. Interns will be trained through their experiences at ITA to provide music therapy services to a variety of individuals. Music therapy interns are expected to have genuine motivation to develop personal and professional skills, as well as flexibility to meet both the clients and the agency's needs.
